MEM/MEng Admitted Student Day
Friday, March 30, 2012
Enrollment/Registration Questions and Answers

How do I accept the offer of admission and enroll in the program?

Admitted students accept the offer of admission through their decision letter at https://app.applyyourself.com/?id=DUKE-ENG. A link is included at the bottom of your letter reading, “Click here to indicate your decision regarding this offer of admission.”

If you click on that link, you’ll be directed to a form where you will indicate whether or not you accept the offer of admission. We ask all admitted applicants to tell us a little about their decision in a short survey at this site – the information you provide is very much appreciated.

What is my deadline for accepting the offer of admission?

The MEM Program requires a response from its admitted students by April 1.

The MEng Program requires a response from its admitted students by May 1.

When will I receive additional information after I accept the offer of admission?

MEM enrollment information will be sent via email from masters@pratt.duke.edu by April 15.

MEng enrollment information will be sent via email from masters@pratt.duke.edu by May 15.

In early summer, the programs’ Sakai sites will be open to new students. Sakai is the place to go for all program information. It will be mentioned in the enrollment information email.

How do I register for Orientation in August?

New students do not need to register for Orientation, which will take place in mid to late August. International students should arrive in Durham no later than August 13 in order to take part in Orientation, and US citizens and permanent residents should be ready for activities on August 20.

When will I register for classes?

Course registration usually takes place over the summer. More information will be provided in the enrollment information email.

When will I be billed for tuition?

Tuition is charged by the semester and the University’s Bursar’s Office (http://www.bursar.duke.edu/) issues statements to students for tuition, fees, and other charges approximately four to eight weeks prior to the beginning of classes each semester. The Amount Due on the statement is payable by the Due Date listed on the statement, usually within a month or so of receipt of a statement. Student account statements are also available online via ACES, Duke’s system for course registration, which you will be able to access over the summer if you enroll in the program.